

The Architectural Education Foundation, AIA Colorado

2015 Traveling Scholarship Recipients

AIA Colorado wishes to congratulate the recipients of this year's Architectural Education Foundation Traveling Scholarships. Each of the winners has been requested to share the highlights and results of their trip once complete. The winners are...

Caitlyn Blythe, Assoc. AIA

Award: Fuller Traveling Scholarship

Purpose: Study the influence of bicycle culture on urban design and architecture in Scandinavia

Tom Otteson, AIA

Award: Hobart D. Wagener Traveling Scholarship

Purpose: Travel to Aragon, Spain to study passive environmental control strategies and material uses

Matthew Joiner, Assoc. AIA & Allison Joiner, Assoc. AIA

Award: James M. Hunter, FAIA Traveling Scholarship

Purpose: Explore architecture and urban intervention strategies in Vancouver, Toronto and Montreal

Michael Wilcox, Assoc. AIA

Award: Arthur A. & Florence G. Fisher Traveling Scholarship I

Purpose: Investigate affordable and desirable working housing in resort areas similar to Vail, Colorado

Sarah Hoistad, Assoc. AIA

Award: Arthur A. & Florence G. Fisher Traveling Scholarship II

Purpose: Explore how culture, code, materials and weather influence the design and architecture of Thailand

Marco Pino-Yancovic

Award: Rodney S. Davis Memorial Scholarship

Purpose: Travel to Finland with an emphasis on Alvar Aalto

Academic scholarship recipients will be notified by the University of Colorado Boulder and Denver, and recognized at upcoming awards receptions. Bon Voyage, travelers!